<sup>1</sup> The Court was prepared to hear oral argument on Wiley's motion on April 30, 2009. However, on April 29, 2009, the Court received a letter from Wiley's counsel, Jonathan J. Sobel, that informed the Court that "Troy Wiley has agreed to have his Motion to Suppress decided on the papers without oral argument." Accordingly, the Court did not hear oral argument on Wiley's motion to suppress.
